Helping Children with Pre-deployment, Separation, and Reintegration

The Deployment Kit, created in collaboration with the military personnel, is designed to support families with children ages three to eight years old that have a family member deployed with the Military.

In addition to a plush toy bear covered in dozens of colourful patches, the kit is filled with resources to help families prepare for deployment, stay connected during their separation, and plan for the transition of reintegration. This pack also includes an excellent DVD about deployment and how can kids cope through this period

“When I was a little girl, my Dad was in the Army and I wish I had something like this. For my son to be able to hold Cuzzie and have a special box to put things that remind him of his Dad is wonderful!”
